LAVENDER - GOSPEL - WHERE'S DADDY - PROJECT MAVEN

Current Applications - Lavender

The Israeli “Lavender” to identify and target supposed Hamas and Palestinian Islamic Jihad Militants, though in affect it not only kills people who active in the resistance movements, it kills their entire families.

IDENTIFY

Current Applications - Lavender

At the time of this research, Dec 2023, it was estimated that 37,000 were targeted and many of them were junior members.

“Once you go automatic, target generation goes crazy.”

The trial period included Israeli Intelligence “manually” checking a few hundred of Lavender’s selected targets. Lavender was wrong about 10% percent of the time.

Peter Thiel says that he “defers to Israel”

IDENTIFY

Current Applications - Where's Daddy

- Maps homes to humans/tracking where individuals live
- Tracks phones of the “human targets” identified by Lavender
- Human returns home→ The entire home is bombed
- IDF source claims it is easier to target them when in their home.

Yuval Abraham

Israeli journalist, whistle-blower

Current Applications - The Gospel (Habsora)

Habsora (The Gospel) processes enormous amounts of data that “tens of thousands of intelligence officers could not process,” and recommends bombing sites in real time.

IDENTIFY

Current Applications - The Gospel (Habsora)

“A fundamental difference between Lavender and The Gospel is in the definition of the target: whereas The Gospel marks buildings and structures that the army claims militants operate from, Lavender marks people — and puts them on a kill list.”

Palantir and the Israeli government “officially” announced their partnership in January of 2024 but Palantir has had offices in Israel since 2015 so it is likely they were working together prior.

Palantir creates customizable software for its clients with the goal of organizing and analyzing massive amounts of data.

In March of 2024, many Palantir employees quit in response to Palantir’s involvement with Israel.

Current Applications - Project Maven

Project Maven: Algorithmic Warfare team

Handles all 6 phases of kill chain

In 2020, went from 30 targets per hour to 80 targets per hour

Rate of finding targets: AI allows 20 people to do the work of 2000

Current Applications - Project Maven

2019: Google sells Project Maven to Palantir Due To Employee Protest

Google employees opposed:

- Autonomous killer robots
- AI covering all 6 steps of the kill chain

2020: Military uses Palantir tech to target
and direct an artillery strike

MEANWHILE...

Palantir & ICE (A Nightmare Combination)

Gotham:

“Your software is the weapons system”

- AI platform developed for militaries and intelligence agencies, used to integrate and organize data from many sources and detect patterns
- ICM (Integrated Case Management) and FALCON: complementary programs that Palantir developed specifically for ICE

History With ICE

- “Unaccompanied Alien Children Human Smuggling Disruption Initiative”
- Led to DHS “zero tolerance” policy and family separation
- September 2017 Operation Omega
- 2018 7-Eleven raids
- August 2019 raid of Mississippi chicken processing plants

Palantir Invades UK Healthcare - And The People Fight Back

In November of 2023, Palantir secured a $415 million contract with the NHS (national health service) in the UK to develop a new patient data platform. The database is one of the biggest repositories in the world.

UK healthcare workers protest NHS contract with Palantir 04/03/24

"Dozens of healthcare workers blocked the entrance to NHS England headquarters in London on Wednesday morning, demanding the cancellation of its contract with US spy-tech company Palantir, which supplies advanced technology to Israel's military."
